

TOUR PEDRA DO TELEGRAFO

The “Pedra do Telégrafo” (Telégrafo Stone) is located in the Pedra Branca State Park, in Barra de Guaratiba, and is 354 meters high. The stone served as the base for a military submarine observation detachment during the World War II and nowadays the site draws many visitors due to its beautiful viewpoints.

From up there, you can see the wild beaches of Rio de Janeiro, such as Praia do Meio, Funda, Grumari, as well as Pedra da Gávea and the beaches of Recreio and Barra da Tijuca. On the other side, a magnificent view of Restinga da Marambaia and the mangroves complete the beautiful scene.
